CELEBRATING 1 YEAR FIRE COVERAGE AGREEMENT ANNIVERSARY

August 1st marks the one year anniversary of the Borough's inter-municipal agreement with Swatara Township Fire-Rescue to provide fire service for the Borough. The relationship between Paxtang Borough and Swatara Township has always been a good one but has grown over the past 10 years through the expansion of Public Safety Services contracted through the Township.

Throughout the past year, the Swatara Township Fire-Rescue has provided exceptional service to the Borough not only for emergency services, but in support of activities in the Paxtang Community. Members of Swatara Township Fire-Rescue have continued to embrace the hometown feel we have come to love by expanding participation and joining our current police force in Borough events such as the Memorial Day Picnic, the Halloween Parade, Trick or Treat, the Santa Runs, and more. Additionally they've engaged with the Paxtang Elementary School at various events throughout the past school year.

Swatara Township Fire and Rescue is always seeking volunteers for both uniform and non-uniform positions. If you'd like to learn more about how you can support fire protection and emergency services in the Borough, visit www.STFR91.com for information. Swatara Fire-Rescue welcomes interest in membership, and participation, from all qualified persons without regard to race, color, ancestry, national origin, or similar discriminatory factors.

BAD BUGS

SPOTTED LANTERN FLY THREAT CONTINUES

PennState Extension reminds residents of the importance of mitigating the spread of this invasive pest.

Spotted lanternfly (SLF), Lycorma delicatula, is an invasive planthopper that was first detected in North America in 2014 in southeastern Pennsylvania. It has now spread to other eastern U.S. states. It is native to parts of Asia. SLF feeds voraciously on many economically important crops like grapevines, hops, ornamental nursery plants, and several tree species. Heavy SLF feeding has contributed to the death of grapevines, the invasive tree Ailanthus altissima (tree-of-heaven, or TOH), and black walnut saplings.

While SLF feeding can stress plants and cause localized branch damage, it is not known to directly kill other plants. SLF feeding is considered a plant stressor and may contribute to the long-term weakening of established plants and trees. It is currently considered to be primarily a nuisance pest in residential landscapes.

Glowing Bugs?

Nope. Spotted lanternfly belongs to the insect family Fulgoridae, or planthoppers. This group of insects was named after "Fulgora," the Roman goddess of lightning, because they were thought to be luminescent, like lightning bugs. In reality, they are not!

Quick facts:

SLF is an invasive pest that feeds on a large variety of plant species, including those in the agricultural, timber, and ornamental industries, and backyard plants.

SLF is currently under quarantine in 34 counties in Pennsylvania, in addition to several other states.

SLF does not bite or sting.

SLF is a plant stressor that, in combination with other stressors (e.g., other insects, diseases, weather), can cause significant damage to its host. SLF alone may not kill the tree. Some plants are at more risk than others (e.g., grapevines, maple, black walnut).

Slow the spread of SLF by checking your car and any outdoor equipment (outdoor furniture, mowers, firewood, etc.) when going in and out of the quarantine zone.

Manage SLF on your property by promoting plant health, scraping eggs, using traps, and using chemical control when appropriate. Use our management decision guide to determine which actions are best to take.

CONTRACT EXTENSION

PAXTANG BOROUGH RENEWS TRASH COLLECTION AGREEMENT WITH HARRISBURG CITY THROUGH 2024.

Paxtang Borough Council voted unanimously to extend the Borough's existing agreement for trash and recycling collection with the City of Harrisburg for an additional year, exercising one of the extension options available under the current contract.

As a result of the extension, Borough Residents will see no change in trash collection or recycling fees for 2024. The extension of the existing agreement means that Borough Residents will continue to receive curbside collection of trash and recyclable materials weekly, and yard waste collections during the spring/summer/fall on identified collection dates.

In many surrounding communities the price of trash collection has spiked significantly over the past year, a term that a recent PennLive article referred to as "trashflation". By extending the existing agreement, the Borough locks in the current rate for collection with no additional charges for Borough Residents.

CARING FOR PAXTANG'S URBAN FOREST

Borough residents are reminded that Section 392-9 of the Borough Code requires that property owners secure written permission from the Shade Tree Commission (STC) prior to planting any trees within the tree lawn between the curb and sidewalk. This is important not only for the long term care of the tree required by the Borough, but also for the safety of the residents.

The STC is seeking volunteers to assist in ground level pruning of existing shade trees. If interested, please contact the Borough office and leave a message for the Shade Tree Commission. Pruning typically occurs during the growing season from spring to fall. STC provides the necessary training and guidance to all volunteers.

Borough residents are also requested to avoid hitting the trunks of trees with lawn mowers or string trimmers. This can cause long term damage to the trees and would ultimately lead to the tree needing to be removed prior to its' intended lifespan. Placing a thin layer of mulch in a circle around the base of the tree will help prevent needing to mow or trim around the trunk. Residents can contact the Borough with any questions regarding protection of existing trees."

PROTECT OUR WATERWAYS!

Stormwater Management

In 2016, DEP labeled approximately 19,000 miles of rivers and streams in Pennsylvania impaired for water supply, aquatic life, recreation, or fish consumption. Stormwater runoff pollution is one of the biggest reasons for this impairment.

Over the past 100 years, streets, parking lots, sidewalks, and roofs have been a steadily increasing part of our communities as we've developed more and more of the landscape. As a result, rain that would otherwise soak into the ground instead rushes over these nonporous surfaces and into storm drains, which send it directly into rivers and streams. So, what can you do as a resident to help our water ways?

Residents can do the following things to protect water quality and reduce water pollution:

- Never dump anything down storm drains.
- Use lawn and garden chemicals sparingly; sweep up any excess from driveways, sidewalks, and roads.
- Repair vehicle leaks; cover spilled fluids with kitty litter then sweep into household waste.
- Pick up after your pet and dispose of properly.
- Control soil erosion on your property by planting ground cover and stabilizing erosion-prone areas.
- Keep grass clippings, leaves, litter, and debris out of street gutters and storm drains.
- Direct downspouts onto grassy areas away from paved surfaces.
- Use a commercial car wash or wash your vehicle on the grass instead of the driveway.
- Dispose of used oil, antifreeze, paints and other household chemicals in an approved manner.

THE LIBRARY GOES FINE-FREE

Your Library is borrowing an idea whose time has come – fine-free operations so members with overdue books don't have to avoid using our services because they can't afford late charges.

To assist our community during the pandemic and help drive recovery, The Library has operated without charging overdue fees since March 13, 2020. Going permanently fine-free underscores our new tagline: The Library is "Your Place to Belong!"

Some skeptics –especially those of us who grew up with painstakingly stamped "due date" cards that fit snugly inside the book's envelope—may think this plan will encourage a free-for-all, with patrons just taking books without limits. But rest assured, this plan has 1) key safeguards and 2) worked well in many major cities. In fact, this modification in operations has even led to the return of many books once thought to be permanently "missing."

Levying fines on overdue book holders is not exactly a high crime or a high cost. Still, it sets up an adversarial relationship between the library user and the librarian that is not the dynamic we hope to achieve.

Our goal is to support more people through our libraries, and help our locations become more accessible, forgiving sites of unfettered discovery, not a source of punitive fines. The Library endeavors to be a collection of treasured materials, not a collection agency.

This trend toward a fine-free Library is driven partly by research demonstrating that fines are inequitably assigned to children and/or the economically disadvantaged.

Library leaders realized that the cost and time utilized to administer fine payments as low as 10 cents is counterproductive. More upsetting, most people who have fines stop using the library. We hope that eliminating fines will bring these folks back into the library fold and make them feel welcome.

Evidence shows that eliminating fines has increased library card adoption and usage, according to the American Library Association – which benefits everyone.

Author Susan Orlean said libraries represent "the best about us as a society: open, exciting, rich, informative, free, inclusive, engaging." In keeping with this aspirational objective, we hope this long-overdue move, borrowed from many other successful libraries, will make us – and our guests – truly "free."
